

NEW POSSIBILITIES IN NVR

Substance Misuse, Mental Health and Education

9.15: Online Webinar

12.30: AGM

Date : Friday 10th March 2023

Webinar: 9.15am - 12.15pm

The NVR Ireland committee welcomes anyone working with children and families or in relevant research areas to join us for our forward-looking webinar focusing on Non-Violent Resistance (NVR) and new developments in practice with children, families and individuals. The theme for the webinar is New Possibilities in NVR – Substance Misuse, Mental Health, and Education with speakers joining us from CAMHS, Substance Misuse and Education perspectives.

AGM: 12.30pm [approx. 1 hour]

The NVR Ireland AGM is open to anyone registered with NVR Ireland as a practitioner or researcher trained in NVR. Motions for discussion at the AGM can be sent by email to the NVR Ireland Chairperson Declan Coogan (declanp.coogan@universityofgalway.ie) by Sunday the 6th of March. Join us at the AGM to hear an update about what we have achieved over the last two years, the resources that we have made available and to agree our priorities for the next 12 months. Non-Violent Resistance (NVR) Ireland is a voluntary association of practitioners and researchers in Ireland committed to the promotion and development of NVR. Anyone interested in (free) membership of NVR Ireland can read the admission criteria and complete an application form at <https://nvrireland.ie/membership/>

Registration for the conference is free but anyone intending to take part must register to receive a link to the meeting. Register via:

<https://www.eventbrite.ie/e/new-possibilities-in-nvr-substance-misuse-mental-health-education-tickets-552729648257>